Behavioral Health ECHO returns on October 3

This renowned series provides continuing behavioral health education for primary care providers and specialists. Topics include Substance Use Disorders, Mood/Angiety Disorders, Personality Disorders, Crisis & Diversion, and Clinical Psychopharmacology.

Led by a robust team of psychiatric specialists from University Neuropsychiatric Institute, this program gives participants the opportunity to present cases and learn best practices on the diagnosis and treatment of mental health disorders. Topics will cover commonly seen cases in primary care, including pharmacological and non-pharmacological treatments.

This series is held every Thursday from noon-1pm. To register, visit the Project ECHO website.

Cardiovascular Symposium

On October 3, specialists from University of Utah Health will share their expertise in the treatment and management of cardiovascular diseases. Primary care providers and specialists are invited to logon and join this evening event. Read more.

DATE: Thursday, October 3, 2019
TIME: 6:15 PM MDT / 5:15 PM PDT
CME credit: three hours
Join online: https://uofuhealth.zoom.us/j/380955144

Advanced radiology methods to detect prostate cancer

Dr. Kathryn Morton, Chief of Nuclear Medicine at University of Utah Health, will teach radiology specialists and staff about the use of Fluciclovine in the detection and diagnosis of prostate cancer. Read more.

Date: Tuesday, September 17, 2019
Time: Noon MDT
CME credit: one hour

Join online: https://uofuhealth.zoom.us/j/380955144

To read this newsletter and the related stories online, go to tinyurl.com/uofuhealthnewsletter
Please direct questions about this material to jared.price@hsc.utah.edu
Overview of Hypovolemic Trauma Patients

September 5th, 4-5pm * Broadcast Live

Join the EMS/Trauma Quarterly Case Review for a discussion on the treatment of patients who have experienced hypovolemia. Participants will discuss actual patient cases who have been treated by regional providers.

CME credit is available to all who attend. Join this meeting online at the following link: https://uofuhealth.zoom.us/j/211369537. For more information, view the flyer.

Commitment to Value - Inpatient: Employee Engagement

The September Commitment to Value – Inpatient session will feature MaryAnn Petela-Young, Leadership Training Specialist within UUH Organization Development. Join us on September 11th from noon-1pm MST, as she presents on “Employee Engagement.”

This session will be held by video conference. To join the conference, just click the following link: https://uofuhealth.zoom.us/j/968139609.

To register for this event, send an email to sarah.day@hsc.utah.edu. To see the topic schedule, click here.

Commitment to Value - Outpatient: Optimizing Patient Access in Clinics

The September Commitment to Value – Outpatient session will feature Kimberly Pacheco, Revenue Cycle Director. Join us on September 10th from noon-1pm MST, as she presents on “Optimizing Patient Access in Clinics.”

This training will be held by video conference. You can join from your computer, laptop, or mobile device. To join the meeting, visit: https://uofuhealth.zoom.us/j/968139609.

To register for this event, send an email to sarah.day@hsc.utah.edu. To see the topic schedule click here.

2019 Education Symposium

This symposium focuses on enhancing the quality of health sciences education. Learn skills for both teaching and creating healthy environments.

This event will be held in Salt Lake City on September 17, 2019. Read more.

Pediatrics teleECHO returns September 25

Health care providers of all levels are welcome to participate in this tele-education and case-based learning opportunity. The first module will focus on Adolescent Health.

To register for this series, visit the Project ECHO website.