LEADERSHIP TRAINING FOR HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS

A new series is designed to teach leadership skills to those who manage clinical and nursing staff. For the last several years, managers at University of Utah Health have increased their leadership skills by attending iLEAD courses. These courses will now be made available to affiliate hospitals and clinics.

The first topic in this series is Employee Engagement. Watch this space in the coming months for information on additional courses, including Leadership vs Management.

These courses can be taught to groups of 6-12 people. To schedule for your clinic, contact education@hsc.utah.edu.

RESILIENCY FOR HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS

Join us for the last session of the resiliency series. We cover topics related to the impact of trauma on front-line caregivers, the creation of professional boundaries with family and patients, communicating with families, patients and each other. COVID-19 has shed new light on the importance of developing self-care strategies in and around the clinical workplace.

Data Usage Notification

In order to support the growth of the ECHO movement, Project ECHO® collects participation data for each ECHO program. This data allows Project ECHO to measure, analyze, and report on the movement’s reach. It is used in reports, on maps and visualizations, for research, for communications and surveys, for data quality assurance activities, and for decision-making related to new initiatives. Please contact us at project.echo@hsc.utah.edu with any questions or concerns.
